

I would urge you not to override existing state laws on theno-call lists for telemarketers. Since signing up for the Indiana list I have had much more peace at dinner time and in the evenings. I only occasionally receive solicitation calls anymore and then only from Organizations I have previously donated to. I do not feel that these laws infringe on these businesses as I would not have dealt with them anyway. I feel that my right to privacy from unwanted solicitations overrules there need to call me.
